ROBED KNIGHTS KUKLUX KLAN ARRESTED HERE

Trial For Disorderly
Conduct Will Be Monday.

NINETEEN ARE TAKEN

Masked Minions of Invisible Empire Stopped and Brought Into Court Here Yesterday.

Trial of nineteen members of the Barbourville Ku Klux Klan on technical charge of disorderly conduct which was scheduled this morning was postponed until 10 o'clock Monday morning, the city not being ready for trial today. The men, robed and masked, were arrested here late yesterday afternoon by city policemen as they were passing through town advertising the Ku Klux meeting at Barbourville next Saturday.

One of the largest crowds that has ever been at the city hall was present this morning to hear the trial. Barbourville and Pineville were liberally represented at the assemblage as well as a multitude of local people.

L. K. Rice, city prosecuting attorney, stated that the men were charged with disorderly conduct, the minimum fine for which is three dollars. He declared that the city would summon a large number of witnesses, possibly including women and children, and that more time was needed. The defendants, represented by several lawyers, urged the court to bring the matter to a speedy trial.

Officers stopped the Barbourville men as they were passing through in their automobiles yesterday afternoon and either unmasked them or had them to take off their hoods. Following this the men were taken to the city hall. Here they were herded into the circuit court room where policemen guarded the doors. The public, including newspapermen, was denied admittance to the obviously public proceeding of issuing warrants for the men and arranging the matter of bond.

The men wore their regalia with the exception of the masks while they were at the city hall. The bleached robes which completely covered their bodies bore on the front a red circle within which was a cross, obviously the insignia of the order.

The prosecuting attorney made a hurried examination of the city ordinances and state statutes but apparently could find no grounds on which to prosecute the men except that of disorderly conduct. Warrants were issued for each and bonds taken, the latter not requiring any cash obligation, the attorney stated. The masked men took the proceeding in apparent good humor and shook hands with the officials and policemen as they retired from the court room.

Only one or two of the defendants will appear for hearing Monday though the verdict rendered will apply to the others.

Street Repairs Begin
Work of repairing the bad places in the West End streets has commenced, the construction workers remedying the defects pointed out by the engineers recently employed for the inspection. While the report of the engineers enumerated some of the defects complained of by property owners, latter claim that a number of them were not included in the report.

U. S. SAVED MONEY BUYING SECURITIES

Public Debt Reduced Amazingly During the Past Year, Treasury Reports.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Officials figuring on operating a sinking fund made public today by the treasury shows the government saved more than $1,000,000 buying back its own securities in the year ending June 30. The entire reduction in the public debt during the past twelve months was $1,100,000,000.

HOLDS GAVEL-BREAKING RECORD

The strong right arm of Senator Thomas Walsh sent countless gavels to the gavel factory during the Democratic convention. Since the problem of keeping the conventio in order took plenty of gavel pounding he is credited with breaking more gavels than any other convention chairman on record. This interesting pose shows the senator in the hot weather costume of a convention chairman.

POVERTY, NOT CRIME BUT CRIME MOTIVE

California Judge Will Establish Compulsory Bank Accounts for Probated Prisoners.

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Poverty is no crime, but often it is a motive for crime, says Judge Arthur Keetch, of the local superior court, who has instituted a probationary system under which all prisoners he releases on probation are required to start a bank account with a certain percentage of their wages.

The first results of the system were made known by Chief Probation Officer May, to whom the men and women on probation are required to submit their bank books once a month. The report indicated that out of a total of 20 of the wards all but two had placed more than $100 each in saving accounts during the period of four months.

MONGOLIAN PRIESTS STUDY IN JAPAN

Good Men Journey From Far Tibet to the Land of Cherry Blossom.

By Associated Press.
TOKIO.—Fifteen priests belonging to that branch of Buddhism which flourishes in Mongolia and Tibet, have arrived in Japan for a three-year stay to study Japanese Buddhism. This is a case of the pupil teaching the teacher, for Japanese Buddhism is a derivative of that religion as taught on the continent of Asia. It is in Japan, however, that Buddhism today has its most virile and progressive sects. The travelers had never seen railways or steamships before undertaking this journey, and they reached Tokio still dazed by the rapidity with which the world outside their Mongolian retreats moves.

Most of their three years will be spent in the great monasteries and temples in the region of Kyoto and Nara, studying the tenets of the principal Japanese sects. Koyan-san, a powerful monastery in Ise prefecture, headquarters of the Shingon sect, will receive them first.

Use Old Time Tools On Modern Furniture

By Associated Press.
WENDOVER, England, July 10.—Tucked away in the woods near the country residence of the British premier at Chequers Court are men making modern furniture with tools similar to those used hundreds of years ago.

The workshops, built in wigwam style beneath trees, contain a primitive kind of lathe made of branches of trees and bits of wire, the motive power being supplied by a long and supple branch fixed to a tree stump outside the workshop. Each lathe turns out as many as a gross of chair legs daily. Most of the craftsmen are elderly, and the oldest not only takes his meals at his lathe, but is said to sleep beside it at night.

FARRELL RECEIVES SUPREME SENTENCE

Second of Quartette to Get Death Sentence for Murder of Buchanan.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Ky., July 10.—George Farrell, of Newport, was found guilty of the murder of Frank Buchanan in attempted holdup of the Clintonville bank June 11. His punishment was fixed at death by the jury in the Bourbon Circuit court today. Farrell is the second of the quartette of men on trial in connection with the slaying to be given a death sentence. Elmer Hall, the first man tried, received a similar sentence last week.

THREE MILLION AUTO TAXES LAST YEAR

Collections On Motors Will Easily Pass That of Last Fiscal Year.

FRANKFORT, July 10.—Deposits with W. H. Shanks, state auditor, since the beginning of the fiscal year, Dec. 2, 1923, up to July 10 total $3,007,968.58 from automobile and motor vehicle collections. Col. N. O. Gray, assistant tax commissioner, head of the state automobile department, said today. He deposited $17,091.37 with Mr. Shanks from a week's collections. The total collections for the last fiscal year amounted to $3,194,386.71, he said, predicting the department would easily pass that figure this year.

Married "Man" Is Girl, Torn Clothes Reveal

RHODES, Iowa, July 10.—When Walter Bundy's clothing was torn in a scuffle, revealing feminine curves, a secret of more than seven years was exposed. "Walter" is now in jail awaiting a hearing on a charge of attempting to commit a public offense.

For seven years Miss Bundy wore men's clothing and was accepted everywhere as a man. She worked on a farm as a laborer and general handy man, worked with men, scuffled with men and none of them ever suspected that she was anything else but one of them.

Three years ago "Walter" married Elizabeth Wolf of this place and they have maintained a household here since.

Financial Worries Cause of Suicide

PADUCAH, July 10.—Financial difficulties are believed by friends of John Degg, 65 years old, harness-maker, to have caused him to commit suicide in his shop here by drinking carbolic acid. He died at Riverside Hospital two hours after swallowing the poison. Degg had no known near relatives. He came to Paducah from Louisville about thirty years ago.

CITY HALTS IN HONOR TO DEAD SON OF COOLIDGE

Funeral Services Solemn Occasion at North Hampton.

UTES ARE SIMPLE

Calvin Coolidge, Jr., Laid to Rest this Afternoon in Tomb Beside Mother of the President

By Associated Press.
NORTH HAMPTON, Mass., July 10.—The city halted its business traffic for the last tribute to Calvin Coolidge, Jr., today. The president had urged the funeral services this morning be observed with simplicity and the home folks sought to comply.

A special train bearing the body arrived early. The cortege moved to the Edwards' Congregational church of which the boy was a member where services were held. The funeral train moved to Plymouth, Vt., the president's birth-place where burial took place this afternoon beside the president's mother.

McMurry In Jail In Default $5,000 Bond

J. B. McMurry, held in jail here on charges of violating the Mann Act, has been notified by Federal Commissioner J. C. Rollins that the amount of bond required is $5,000. The defendant has not made the bond. He will probably be held here pending his trial in federal court, the place of trial having not been decided.

He is reported to have taken a Middlesboro girl out of the state under circumstances which amount to a violation of the federal act. The police have been hot on his trail since he returned from Missouri. They narrowly missed catching him at Arthur, Tenn., recently and later missed him at Danville. They succeeded in arresting him at Lynch this week.

Suits for $10,800 In Case of S. R. Rambo

KNOXVILLE, July 10.—Seven suits seeking recovery on notes aggregating $10,800, which were alleged to have been purchased by the complainants from the S. R. Rambo company or were taken as part collateral on money loaned the company or S. R. Rambo, were instituted yesterday in chancery court.

In some of the cases it was alleged that the notes had been released by Mr. Rambo or agents of the company, without notification of the holder and possessor of the note, and it is asked in these cases that the releases be declared void. It is also stated that part payments have been made on the notes by the makers.

ISLE ROYALE TO BE NATIONAL RESERVE

Beautiful Superior Island to Become a National Playground.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—A national playground 45 miles long and nine miles wide and embracing 132,000 acres of virgin wilderness, prolific flora, rare orchids and wild animal life is planned by the government on Isle Royale in Lake Superior. The island, which is accessible to the entire middle west, recently was visited by Stephen T. Mather director of the National Park Service, who on his return to Washington reported the site an ideal one for recreational purposes.

The natural displays on Isle Royale, Director Mather reported, make its permanent preservation of utmost importance, nearly a score of attractive harbors a like number of lakes and many swift flowing trout streams providing a fisherman's paradise.

Steps already have been taken to secure the island for the government and Mr. Mather says the genuine public spirit and the sincere interest in preservation shown by the principal owners and others has guaranteed the creation of a great playground for the American people.

Besides its great virgin forests, the island is said to be inhabited by a herd of 1,800 tame moose, 400 woodland caribou. Thousands of wild fowl and migratory birds visit the island for breeding purposes.

STEVE WHITE IS POISON VICTIM

Relief to Million Takes Strychnine. Apparently Trying to End His Life.

Steve White whose claims of being an heir to a large fortune in France were denied by his alleged relatives recently, is suffering from a dose of strychnine, at the Bell county poor farm, presumably taken with the intention of ending his life. Dr. E. D. Wilson, of Pineville, stated this afternoon that his condition is not regarded as serious.

The patient has offered no explanation for the act, the authorities of the poor-house state. He has been there most of the time during the investigation of his purported inheritance.

U. S. WILL NOT BE IN LEAGUE PLANS

Will Not Adhere to Draft Because Nation Is Not a Member of the League.

By Associated Press.
GENEVA, July 10.—The United States government officials informed the League of Nations that it cannot adhere to the draft of mutual assistance which the fourth assembly voted to be circulated among all governments with a request for an expression of their views. The fact that America is not a member of the League was given as one reason.

RED CROSS BOARD NAMES NEW NURSE

Action Subject to Approval by Headquarters—Dayton Woman Is Favored.

At a meeting of the Red Cross board yesterday afternoon it was decided to appoint a nurse for the local chapter to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Wilhelmine Marx. If the appointment recommended by the local board is approved by the American Red Cross headquarters at Washington, the nurse will begin her duties here about August 15.

Miss Margaret East, regional Red Cross official, has recommended the appointment of Mrs. Eunice Bailey Morris, of Dayton, O., and, in all probability, she will be appointed to the place.

Phone Company Officials Deny Merger

KNOXVILLE, Tennessee, July 10.—Reports which were recently circulated to the effect that officials of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company had visited Knoxville and interviewed officials of the Peoples Telephone and Telegraph company with a view to purchasing the properties of the latter for the purpose of a consolidation, were denied by J. C. Duncan, president of the Peoples company, and E. Frank Garrett, manager of the Cumberland company, yesterday.

The report also said that the reason for non-acceptance of the Cumberland Telephone company's offer by the Peoples telephone, was that the price was not right.

"Neither the Peoples Telephone and Telegraph company, nor any of representatives have ever negotiated in any way with Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company, its representatives or officials in connection with a merger of the two companies," Mr. Duncan said.

JOHN DAVIS CLUB IS FORMED HERE

Middlesboro Apparently the First to Perfect Organization for Nominee.

What is believed to have been the first John W. Davis club to come into existence in the entire country was organized here yesterday afternoon. The club which hopes to do its part toward the election of the West Virginian to the highest office in the land had its inception at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a few minutes after definite information that Davis was nominated was received.

Judge M. H. Rhorer was elected chairman of the club. Membership of course is not large at this time but the leader expresses the belief that it will grow and perform a useful function here before the November election.

Leading Democrats of Middlesboro seemed pleased with the compromise candidate. Though the Bell county delegation was for McAdoo in the state and national convention, local adherents to the party were evidently satisfied with Davis who has been an outstanding "dark horse" during the convention.

SHEET WAS ONLY LOOT OF ROBBER

West End Thief Steals Bed Covering When Unable to Break Into Residence.

A robber, evidently the one which has been terrorizing West End residents at night, made a unique haul at the home of General Turner in the Noetown section. The only article taken was a sheet. Unable to gain entrance through the window, the man reached his hand through and pulled a sheet from an unoccupied bed.

Mr. Turner was aroused by the noise of the would-be intruder and started an investigation. Seeing the man fleeing in the direction of the woods he is reported to have fired several shots at him but without effect.

This makes the fifth or sixth robbery or attempted burglary which has been committed in that section during the past two weeks. According to information received from there today the police were not notified of the recent attempt.

FIRST WIFE'S GHOST HALTS WEDDING

Chinese Bride-to-Be Thrown From Chair by Goodwife Number One.

By Associated Press.
PEKING, July 10.—Claiming that she was pushed by the ghost of her prospective husband's deceased wife, a Chinese bride-to-be caused a sensation in the street outside Hatanen gate recently by leaping from the bridal sedan chair in which she was being conveyed to her prospective husband's home.

As the girl sat weeping in the dust she explained to the go-between representing the groom's family, and to the crowd which gathered that as she was entering the chair at her own home she observed a fisherwoman following her. Suddenly she felt herself propelled out of the chair. She felt convinced, she said, that she was under the spell of the first wife who naturally felt annoyed at seeing her former place about to be usurped.

After much persuasion the bride was induced to proceed to the ceremony and there was no further mishap.

LIFE'S EPOCHS

There are but three important epochs in a man's life; when he is born, when he is married and when he dies. And even these are overshadowed by the curiosity whether he is a boy or girl, what the bride wore and how much he left in his will.

Davis Declines Discussion Issues of the Campaign

LEAVES LAW FIRM

Time and Place of Formal Notification Not Decided—Leaders at the Session.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 10.—John W. Davis and Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska are the Democratic party's candidates for president and vice-president emerging from the hundred and third ballot as the national convention's choice for the presidential nomination.

The West Virginia lawyer-diplomat swept away the great waves of bitterness churned up during the fifteen days' stormy conflict, then taking command as the new head of the party, guided the convention swiftly toward the selection of his running mate, the brother of William Jennings Bryan who was the most vigorous opponent throughout the balloting.

When the convention adjourned at 2:24 today it had filled many pages of political history, rising in dramatic force from the violent struggle twelve days ago over naming the Klan in the platform through the record-breaking deadlock between supporters of McAdoo and Smith that held through 100 ballots, before the nomination was in sight. In the closing scene came the precedent of the nominee in appearance to acknowledge his gratitude and of his prompt assumption of command of the nomination for vice-president which was accomplished in a single ballot, though changing many votes that eliminated almost thirty names that first appeared when the weary delegates had finished their work.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 10.—Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska was nominated as the candidate for vice-president by the Democratic convention early today. The convention adjourned since die at 2:24 a. m.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 10.—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president, intends to carry his fight direct to the country by a series of addresses. This part of his campaign plans disclosed today was the first formal reference to newspaper correspondents since his nomination yesterday. Other details remain to be worked out in a conference with party leaders.

Davis declined to discuss the campaign issues at this time, explaining that such discussion in advance of formal notification would be premature. The time and place of the notification is undetermined. Replying to questions, Davis said he would sever connections with his law business. He is a member of the same firm that Grover Cleveland was when nominated. The third time approving the suggestions of Davis and Bryan, the national committee agreed to postpone reorganization of the session until after the formal notification of candidates who attended and were given an enthusiastic reception.

THE GOAL OF EDUCATION

President Coolidge stood before the July 4 session of the National Education Association meeting in Washington with a stress upon the fact that "the goal" should be attached to education upon every possible occasion. There are big reasons. Tens of thousands of young people have been forced through school and college, not knowing why. Thousands of proud families have insisted that their younger members hold themselves to the educational grindstone until they possess that sharp social wedge known as a degree from a renowned institution. Numberless pupils have been ceaselessly prodded with the economic scare that big wages do not usually come to uneducated brains. Even now there are those educators who seem to be increasingly anxious to glorify the selfish ends of education. One may quickly count a score of college and university presidents who will offer a score of widely diverging conceptions of the purpose of education.

President Coolidge said, "It is necessary that education should be the handmaid of citizenship." Education is not an end in itself. Education has a goal—the liberation of the best that is in a man for the sake of all mankind. Education ceases to be education when false pride and false power enter in. Neither do adults need to be so dictatorial, so profound, so evasive, insincere, apologetic, or uncertain about the "why" of education when the young folks ask for a reason. "Education should be a handmaid of citizenship." There ought to be nothing obscure or mysterious in the word "citizenship." It plainly implies that unselfish and intelligent co-operation which will bring "liberty and protection" for everyone within the bounds of the Nation—and extended to include the bounds of humanity.

How the schools and colleges must serve as a direct means to this goal of true and constructive citizenship. President Coolidge indicated by frequent repetition of the word "unless." "Our institutions are constantly, and very properly, the subject of political inquiry," he urged, adding: "Unless their nature is comprehended, unless their origin is understood, unless their value is properly assessed, the citizen falls ready prey to those selfish agitators who would exploit his prejudices to promote their own advantage. .... All of our learning and science, our culture and our arts, will be of little avail, unless they are supported by high character, unless there be honor, and truth, and justice; unless our material resources are supported by moral and spiritual resources. .... Unless these able, American citizenship will be found unequal to its task."—Christian Science Monitor.

RECOVERY OF IRON TRADE

Shipments of iron ore from the Lake Superior district in June totaled 7,583,927 gross tons, as compared with 9,499,501 tons in June, 1923.

Shipments for the season of 1924 to July 1 totaled 14,827,127 tons, as compared with 16,185,480 tons during the same period in 1923. The decrease this year up to July 1 is 1,358,353 tons, which is not a large slump when considered in connection with an average season's total.

This report covers the tonnage shipments from the iron ports of Duluth, Two Harbors, Superior, Ashland and Marquette and to a considerable extent represents stock pile shipments. Of this total over five million tons were loaded from the Duluth and Superior docks and about one million from the Two Harbors dock which total is largely low grade iron ore.

The optimistic note found in the iron trade in the past week is not confined to any one center and the general trend of the business points to increased production from week to week with a return to normal conditions before the first of the year.

The recession in the iron and steel industry in the spring of this year was sudden and it is expected that the recovery will be rapid. That recovery is now under way is the declaration of men prominent in the business and if such improvement continues, the movement of iron ore will be sustained through the rest of the season, they say.

Kansas has lifted its water tax which doubtless is hailed with joy by all the milkmen.

We suppose the lady delegates from the west went home fully convinced that they were the major cause of the defeat of the candidacy of that "Awful Al Smith."

Over in Campbell county they find a woman two hundred dollars because she helped her husband escape from jail. It don't look right when most of wives need a jail sentence imposed to keep him where they have a line on him.

We kind of wish they had nominated Tom Walsh for vice-president—and elected him, especially if he took that gavel along and in his polite Keltic manner, bounced it off the head of some senator once about every fifteen minutes.

Our office expert estimates that had Cheops, when he built the pyramid that time, employed Detroit bricklayers, at the regular scale of a dollar a brick, it would have cost him $229,000,421,929.00 or $44 more than the entire tax valuation of the kingdom of Egypt.

Some day when the entire force of this old paladium of liberty comes to us with their smiling faces all aglow, and beg us to take a rest of from two to three weeks, we're going down to the city hall and study the cabalistic marks on the street that the police force have so kindly placed for the guidance of motorists; and then go right home and take up our hand loom and weave an oriental carpet.

Partridges Make Nest On Roof of Building

By Associated Press.
YORK, Pa., July 10.—The unusual sight of a family of partridges nesting on the roof of a six-story office building in the heart of the business section of the city, is attracting attention here. The roof is of pitch covered with a half-inch of gravel. One of the birds is mothering her brood of two young ones.

Those who go to the roof to watch the birds can do so without disturbing them, as the instinct of the partridge prompts it to lie still when danger is sensed, and to rely upon its natural camouflage for protection. According to workers in the building, the birds have been coming there regularly for several years.

GERMANY 7TH IN SHIPPING DESPITE WAR

Teutons Rapidly Regain Maritime Prestige of Old.

LOST HALF IN WAR

Was Second Place Before World Conflict—Held Eleventh Place In Marine In 1920.

Associated Press.
HAMBURG, Germany. German shipping claims to be fighting against tremendous odds in its attempt to regain its place in the sun. The loss of 90 per cent of the German merchant fleet through the war and the terms of surrender means that German ship owners practically have had to start anew. By taking up loans having back some of the ships delivered to the Entente victors, and refraining from paying dividends in recent years, the shipping concerns of Germany have gradually worked up a post-war tonnage of 2,500,000 gross register tons, which is about one-half the German pre-war tonnage, and which comprises 1 per cent of the total world's tonnage as compared with 11 per cent in 1914.

From eleventh place in 1920 among the shipping nations of the world Germany has moved to seventh place by 1924, as compared with second place in 1914.

Count Siegfried Roeder, chairman of the League of German Ship Owners and Freighters, in a prepared statement replying to specific questions, gave the following picture of shipping conditions:

"In 1914 the German merchant marine occupied second place among the merchant fleets of the world as far as actual tonnage was concerned. It then comprised 5,200,000 gross register tons and was surpassed only by Great Britain.

"In the course of the war Germany lost about half of her ships through seizure, sinking, etc. Next, in accordance with the terms of the Versailles Treaty, she had to give up approximately the second half. Included among the vessels that had to be turned over to the victors were all the larger boats. The Germans were permitted to retain only the ships under 1,000 tons and one-half the vessels between 1,000 and 1,500 tons. By the peace treaty and the German legislation resulting therefrom German shipping was compelled to pay a part of the war bill immediately in kind, by giving up not only the ships already in the service, but also those under construction.

"It was the sense of the Treaty of Versailles that this delivery by private capital was to be regarded as a payment on account by the German Empire and hence to be refunded to the individual concerns by the German state. The financial condition of the Reich made complete indemnification impossible. An agreement was therefore reached between the government and the ship owners, by which the latter were to receive an amount sufficient to rebuild not one-third of their pre-war tonnage. Because of the inflation of the last years the indemnity payment of the government did not suffice to rebuild the third of the old tonnage agreed upon. Besides, in distributing the government indemnity, the small ship owners were to be given the preference, so that most of the larger concerns were able to finance a replacement program of but 20 per cent of the pre-war tonnage on the funds furnished by the government. The fact that the larger concerns nevertheless rebuilt on an average one-third of their old tonnage, is due solely to their watering their stock and assuming new debts.

Due to the fact that a number of small and middle-sized concerns were able to exceed this program, and that several new companies have been founded, the entire German merchant marine has now, upon completion of the reconstruction program, been brought to 2,500,000 tons—in other words, to about one-half of the pre-war tonnage both by new construction and through the re-purchase of vessels delivered.

Compared with the former fleet, the present comprises comparatively few purely passenger ships and more mixed freight and passenger vessels, as well as freighters pure and simple. The fact that these newly constructed ships are equipped with modern machinery does not counterbalance the fact that the total value of the ships has depreciated over the pre-war value.

"Germany has taken up her principal former routes, such as those to North America, South America, the Orient, Dutch East Indies, and Australia. The tonnage at the service of these routes, of course, considerably reduced, especially since greater emphasis must now be placed upon the routes to Sweden, England and Spain, inasmuch as Germany's production of iron and coal has been considerably diminished as a result of the peace treaty.

"The indemnity payments for the merchant vessels delivered were continued only until March, 1923. Since that time no additional payments have been made in the form of the uncompleted part of the reconstruction program.

"The building program undertaken as a result of the indemnity payments is now complete to within four or five ships. It is self-evident that for years to come the building part of the last years of reconstruction or even of the years before the war cannot be kept separate from them themtimeitmit

NEW YORK, July 10.—Every cloud has its silver lining, even in politics.

The darker the clouds lowered over the Democratic contestants, warring to determine who, if anybody, should be nominated to carry forward the fight for freedom (from Republican rule) this fall, the brighter and more burnished became the silver sheen from the Republican side of the thunder cloud.

So bright, in fact, has the G. O. P. view of the political future become that about half the cabinet at Washington isn't even pretending to appear busy and important. And although Republican administration heads, for purposes of the campaign, aren't supposed to be interested in things European, or to recognize any angles of interest in foreign affairs, except such as may be seen from a distance, the first two members of the cabinet are actually shutting up their desks, turning the keys over to subordinates, and setting sail for that misquid continent where the terrible League of Nations has its home.

So enchanting, indeed, does the political prospect appear to them, that even that international dragon inspires in them not the slightest fear.

Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state, will follow the example of the Prince of Wales on his latest trip to America, and travel incognito, as it were.

The prince, you will remember, came among us last as plain Baron Renfrew. Hughes will attempt to shed his official identity as secretary of state and will travel simply as a member of the American Bar Association. For it is to attend the annual meeting of that organization, which will be held in London, that Hughes is, ostensibly, making the trip.

Just why the American Bar Association should meet in London, and why the secretary of state should go, is a question that will be asked in the future.

ANCESTRAL HOMES ARE NOW DIVIDED

Heirs In Tahiti Each Takes His Bit Under Present Law.

MUCH OF LITIGATION

Family Large and Parents Are Separated; Each Member Taking His or Her Share.

By Associated Press.

PAPEETE, Tahiti.—Here and there on the island of Tahiti may be seen fragments of houses; houses with the ends cut away, exposing bare rooms enclosed on three sides while the fourth remains open to the weather; houses with verandas gone; houses cut in half; others with their iron roofs taken away. Inquiry brings to light the information that these forlorn exhibits represent the workings of the French inheritance laws as applied to Tahiti.

In former times when the head of the family died the title to the property was vested in the eldest child, who conserved it for the benefit of the family at large. But the French laws have done away with this. They decree that each heir shall come into full possession of his share of any property. In consequence the courts at Papeete are congested with land litigation. The usual battleground is the homestead, which generally is a wooden building of many rooms crowned by a corrugated-iron roof and surrounded by a broad veranda. The eldest son or daughter holds the fort there. But the others, after much litigation, establish their right to shares.

Armed with court orders, saws, chisels and other implements of destructive carpentry, they come and dismember the ancestral mansion, each taking his fragment to his own

BATBOY 3 YEARS AGO BECOMES A LEAGUER

Freigau Was Toting Sticks, Now Is a Major League Star.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Jumping from batboy to regular third baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals in three years, Howard Freigau realized the greatest of his boyhood ambitions in much less time than he ever dreamed he would. He told the story when the Cardinals were at the Polo Grounds on their recent eastern invasion.

Freigau related that he first attracted the attention of Branch Rickey, the Cardinals' boss, when he was playing high school baseball. At the end of his high school course he received offers from several colleges, but on the advice of Mr. Rickey went to Ohio Wesleyan. There he began studying for an A. B., but before he finished his course he became a B. B. (batboy), because the college diamond did not give him enough baseball.

Manager Rickey had engaged Freigau during the summer to look after boys admitted to the St. Louis park, and when the Cardinals went on the road Freigau went along as batboy so that he could continue his study of big league baseball without hurting his status as an amateur player.

Freigau, however, had ruined that status by playing semi-pro games on Saturdays and Sundays and, when the athletic authorities at Ohio Wesleyan heard of this, the youngster was advised that his playing days on college diamonds were over. The player communicated the information to Manager Rickey, who immediately signed him as a player.

"That was in 1922," said Freigau. "Last year I made myself as handy as I could, and this year I made the grade as a regular."

What is left remains the heritage of the eldest, and until he can gather substance to repair the damage his domicile continues a melancholy monument to family disharmony, and he camps in the one or two rooms still sheltered.

CARP TO QUIT IF RIVAL WINS BOUT

Will Hang Up Gloves and Leave the Ring if Defeated by Gene Tunney.

NEW YORK, July 10.—If Georges Carpentier is defeated by Gene Tunney, American lightweight champion, when they meet at the Polo grounds on July 24, the Frenchman will hang up his gloves for good and cancel all further engagements. This statement was made by Francois Des Camps, the Frenchman's manager, in discussing the Frenchman's chances with the American champion.

Carpentier has booked matches with Young Stribling, Macon, Ga., school boy and Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo lightweight, both of which bring him fat guarantees but these will be thrown into the discard if the Frenchman loses the decision to Tunney.

In relating facts incident to Carpentier's defeat at the hands of Dempsey, Des Camps alleges that Carpentier's true weight the day he stepped into the ring with the champion at Boyles Thirty Acres in 1921 was 168 pounds while Dempsey tipped the scales at 190 pounds.

Both Carpentier and Des Camps will be in the corner of Barthelmy Molinere, French middleweight, when he meets Phil Krug of Newark, at the Laurel A. C. in Newark on Monday night. Molinere is a protégé of Carpentier's and a member of his staff of sparring partners.

SCORES COLLEAGUE: HE GOLFS WITH DUKE

British Laborite Criticizes "Proletariat" for Sport Company.

LONDON, July 10.—This recent golf match on a miners' course between the Duke of York and Frank Hodges, civil lord of the admiralty, was severely criticized by D. B. Jones of Merthyr Tydfil, when he presided at a conference of the National Federation of colliery enginemen, boiler-men and mechanics.

"I must yield to the temptation of criticizing a one-time fiery representative of the proletariat, who has been falling over himself to play golf with a real live duke," said Mr. Jones. "Not that I object to the man playing golf with the duke. What I do object to is the hypocrisy of the whole thing."

"One of the most damnable features in public life is the hypocrisy of public representatives, and we are paying a heavy price in permitting this to go on without protest."

MARKET FOR GERMAN ART LOW EBB

Recent Auctions Show That Art Is a Cheap Commodity at the Present.

By Associated Press.

Berlin, July 9.—Recent auctions in this city of paintings and etchings have demonstrated that art is about as cheap a commodity as anything purchasable in Germany today.

One of the largest dealers in works of art conducted an auction recently for which the most careful preparation was made. Despite the high cost of printing and engraving, the firm went to the expense of reproducing two dozen of the principal works by modern masters offered for sale. Yet when the day came a work by no less an artist than Liebermann, which was conservatively estimated at 20,000 gold marks, went unsold because not even one-fourth of this sum was offered. An oil painting by Ludwig von Hoffmann brought only 50 marks. Other ridiculously low prices were: a landscape by Ludwig Willroder, 3.0 marks; a typical painting by Eduard von Gebhardt, 200 marks; landscapes by Eugen Bracht, until recently one of the German favorites, 80 and 90 marks.

What is true of paintings is also true of other artistic things. For antique furniture for instance, there is practically no demand at this time, and valuable first editions and rare bindings can be bought for low figures.

Told in the soft, silver voice of the breeze.
Wait, dear, and follow that thin thread of sound

Breathed up from the ground!

In the balm and the beauty of soft springtime night
Is the time to be told of the trees and their plight,
How they fought through the winter so stately and bare,
And now in green raiment stand lovely and fair.

Such a whisper of magic, such words beyond words,
With little quaint meanings none know but the birds:
Such splash upon splash as the boughs bent before

BOBBED: CHINESE VISIT BARBERS

Latter Day Chinese Will Have None of the Ancient Custom.

By Associated Press.

PEKING.—Queues are a mark of ignorance and the wearing of them does no credit to latter day China, says General Wang Chen-ping, civil governor of Chihli province, in an order abolishing them. Two months time will be allowed "pig tail" Chinese to get rid of their appendages voluntarily. After that queue-cutting parties will be staged by the police in all quarters of the province by official order.

A brief campaign of education will be carried on during the two months' respite by means of posters and hand bills. The police in the villages will assist by telling the people how foolish they are to stick to the ancient custom.

In addition to having his queue forcibly removed any Chinese failing to observe the order will be fined one dollar, the proceeds to be divided among the police who have been most conscientious in enforcing obedience.

AMUSEMENTS

Lasky Comments On "Big Brother" Film

Rex Beach's latest novel, "Big Brother," which is looked at the Manning tonight, and which ran as a serial in "Hearst's International Magazine," has been produced for Paramount by Allan Dwan.

In commenting upon his picture, Jesse L. Lasky said in part: "I consider 'Big Brother' one of the greatest stories of the greatest stories of the season. It was told to me by the author before it began appearing in Hearst's magazine, and we lost no time in buying it. It is a story of New York gangster and the work of the Big Brother movement in protecting and rescuing boys from evil surroundings in our big cities."

"Behind the writing of 'Big Brother' is an appealing human interest story. Mr. Beach was in Washington some time ago during a convention of the Big Brother organization. He became acquainted with several leaders of the movement and from what they told him of the work of their organization he was inspired to write his novel."

Neither the novel nor the picture which we have made is in any sense propaganda; it is a powerful, colorful story of dramatic action against a background of a philanthropic movement, which embraces the entire country and includes in its membership men from all walks of life.

"Tom Moore plays the title role and other members of the cast include Raymond Hatton and Edith Roberts, featured with Mr. Moore, Joe King, Mickey Bennett, Charles Henderson, Wynne Hughes, and many others just as prominent."

"The selection of 'Big Brother' and of Allan Dwan as its director is in line with our policy of getting only the biggest and most popular stories and giving them to directors, who have already proved their worth at the box office. I expect that Mr. Dwan's production of 'Big Brother' will be one of the big successes of this season, and I feel that this is only another evidence of the big things we had in mind when we adopted our policy of testing the worth of our pictures with the public before selling them to the exhibitor."
